Welcome

The Brody School of Medicine SNMA Chapter's Premedical Conference offers an opportunity for undergraduates who want to pursue a career in medicine to learn about and prepare for the admissions process. This conference is student-run with the generous support of the Office of Admissions, Student Affairs and the Academic Support and Enrichment Services at the East Carolina University Brody School of Medicine. The conference structure covers all major areas of the application process, and participation in this conference will provide a valuable learning experience that enhances a student's skills and makes him or her more competitive for acceptance to medical school.

Registration is now available online:
<http://www.ecu.edu/org/snma/>
